

Line it up!

Materials needed: Blindfolds and peeps!

Instruction:

Have all of the participants together in a group. Have each of them put on a blindfold. Tell them that they are to align themselves according to height (tallest to shortest). They cannot see or talk to do this task. An alternative is to align themselves according to their age (by birth date).

Application:

- 👉 What were the different methods that were used to communicate?
- 👉 What did you do when someone didn't understand what you were trying to communicate?
- 👉 Did a leader emerge from your group? Was a leader needed? Why or why not?
- 👉 What makes a good leader?
